

Another bpv BRAUN PARTNERS Moot Court now complete!

On Tuesday, November 27, 2018, our office held the final round of the second year of the labour law Moot Court, organized by our office in conjunction with the student association ELSA Czech Republic Prague.

The competition takes place in two rounds: first teams receive a written assignment, and then the four best teams proceed to a simulated court hearing where they have to make a statement on the legal action, examine a witness and make a closing statement as counsel for the plaintiff or defendant before a panel of three judges.

The panel of judges, made up of managing partner Arthur Braun, of counsel Lucie Kalašová, and senior associate Markéta Nešetřilová, had their work cut out for them – 25 teams signed up for the first round, so competition this year was extremely high.

The winning team was Jakub Jebousek and Jaroslav Vích, with František Marejka and Monika Fojtíková coming in second. Both teams received a financial reward. The competition also included an award for best orator, who received an offer to complete an internship at our offices. This award went to Jaroslav Vích this year, so we will be glad to see him again in the spring. 😊

